Job Details:

“If I were in charge, there’s no way I’d do it this way.”

“Not another initiative from central command.”

Face it, you’ve heard that voice in your head too much for the last few months, in today’s world of RVP’s and SVP’s, you’re not really leading, you’re mostly marching to the orders of someone who has a bigger title on their business card. If this sums up your situation and you’re ready to lead a group of radio stations with real ownership and growth opportunities, Mid-West Family Broadcasting in Springfield, Illinois want to visit with you about our General Manager position.

With four great radio stations including legendary WMAY and WNNS, Mid-West Family Broadcasting in Springfield needs a take charge leader that will create and nurture customers on a daily basis to drive long-term revenue growth. This is a real General Manager position. You’ll be making decisions about the business on a daily basis, you’ll write a strategic plan for you market and then execute it. It’s your ship and you’ll report to a board of directors and shareholders. No market managers or RVP’s are hidden within our ranks.

Experience:

The ideal candidate has a sincere desire to serve the market, to create an employee culture of personal growth and dare we say atmosphere of “fun” in the workplace. Our general managers immerse themselves into the community and spend time engaged with the local chambers of commerce and other influential local organizations. Our general managers understand what it takes to run a small business and a solid profit orientation. Our general managers have a unique understanding of radio programming structure and brand management. Our general managers have a demonstrated ability to collaborate within teams and grow colleague’s professional careers while being level-headed and patient with a long view of the industry and business.

Requirements:

Do you have documented leadership experience and work intensity? Do you have a high “mission” about the future of your company and are natural at coaching, developing, and nurturing relationships internally and externally? Do you want to be an owner and invested in your career and the community where you live? Does this sound good to you? If so, send your resume to:
