DOES FREIGHT HOLD ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY FOR VALDEZ

The City of Valdez recently commissioned the McDowell Group to put together a competitive market analysis and long range planning for the Port of Valdez. The survey indicates Anchorage has 84 percent of the estimated market share of Southcentral Non-Petroleum, Non-Coal Freight Volume in the state, followed by Whittier with 11 percent, Seward with 3 percent and Valdez with 2 percent. The study, among other things, predicts an increase in out-bound shipments of salmon with the expansion of Silver Bay Seafoods' expansion of their Valdez seafood processing facility.
