May 2019

WHAT WE RAISE FUNDS FOR

Broadcasting Studios Relocation - $3M

- * Construction of on-air, interview and production studios
- * Major broadcasting equipment upgrades for increased reliability
 - * Extensive soundproofing and supplemental air-conditioning
 - * Extensive back-up systems for 24/7 operation in all conditions
- * Music collection (10,000+ recordings)
- Office space for 25-30 staff members

Board-Designated Invested Fund - $2M

Creation of a new fund that will generate revenue and assure long-term financial stability.

Digital Programming Fund - $1M

Innovation funds to allow long-term investments in local programming, music education and digital technologies.

When is KING FM moving?

Our new broadcasting studios and offices are in construction at the Opera Center! We are planning to move in February 2020 just before the expiration of our lease. The building that KING FM has shared with ArtsFund for many years will be demolished to make way for new development.

Why are you creating these new funds?

KING FM is a relatively new nonprofit of only eight years, with no endowment and slim reserves. To guarantee its future, building its financial stability and giving it the means to invest in digital technologies and programming activities is as essential as building its new walls.

Why is KING FM important?

KING FM celebrates the great musical achievements 24 hours a day, including the talented musicians and composers of the Pacific NW.

As the most accessible source of classical music, with a diverse audience of 250,000 listeners weekly, KING FM introduces more people to classical music than any other organization in the region.

As only 15% of Classical KING FM's listeners have ever attended a classical music performance, KING FM's role in engaging new audiences in the arts in our region is essential. All classical music organizations in the Puget Sound rely on KING FM to help them grow larger, more diverse attendance for their performances.

Brenda BarnesClassical KING FM CEO

Brenda Barnes was appointed CEO of Classical KING FM 98.1 in January 2018. Prior to coming to Seattle, she was president of USC Radio, responsible for all aspects of managing the classical stations serving Southern California and the Bay Area, with special emphasis on fundraising, relationships with arts organizations and strategic planning.

In the past, Barnes served as general manager at a public radio station in Fort Dodge, Iowa. At WMRA in Harrisonburg, Virginia, she developed a regional network of stations serving the northwestern part of the state. She also served for two years as general manager of WGUC, Cincinnati. She has worked in public radio since 1985.

Barnes currently serves on the board of directors of the Station Resource Group and previously served on the boards of National Public Radio, the Development Exchange and Eastern Public Radio. She also sits on the boards of the Los Angeles County High School of the Arts (LACHSA) Foundation; Yarlung Artists, a nonprofit organization that assists young artists in achieving their career goals; and the Orel Foundation, which is dedicated to the revival of music suppressed by the Nazis.

Barnes holds a bachelor's degree in music from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and master's degrees in clarinet performance and musicology from Michigan State University and the University of Notre Dame, respectively. In 2009, she earned a doctorate in planning and development studies from USC.

THE CAMPAIGN FOR CLASSICAL KING FM

A Letter from Leslie Jackson Chihuly, Honorary Co-Chair of the Campaign for Classical KING FM

Dear Friend of Classical KING FM,

As a longtime listener and supporter of Classical KING FM, I am thrilled and honored to take part in the vision and goals for the Campaign for Classical KING FM. As immediate past Chair of the Seattle Symphony, I am also well aware of KING FM's important role in developing new audiences for all the classical music performance organizations in the region. The programming and service KING FM provides to our community are essential for the sustainability and vitality of our region's musical culture. While KING FM has served the Greater Puget Sound Region for 70 years, it has only operated as a nonprofit for seven years. More than 15,000 of us stepped up to support Classical KING since its transition. However, our market research tells us that we have much work to do in developing its identity as a strong nonprofit arts organization which relies on the generosity of donors to deliver its mission to a growing audience.

This campaign is designed to help KING FM move into a new space by February 2020 when the current lease expires, to build greater financial sustainability, and to support audience development on new digital platforms.

As President and CEO of Chihuly Studio and in my various board roles, I help organizations, many of them arts organizations, build and achieve exciting visions for the future. The vision behind this campaign moves Classical KING FM into the future as the organization it can and must be to support the vibrant, growing arts community in Seattle and the Puget Sound Region. I hope you will join me in supporting The Campaign for Classical KING FM.

Sincerely,

Leslie Jackson Chihuly

THE CAMPAIGN FOR CLASSICAL KING FM

A Letter from Lyn and Jerry Grinstein, Honorary Co-Chairs of the Campaign for Classical KING FM

Dear Friend of Classical KING FM,

There is nothing like fine music, and in our daily lives, nothing brings it to us like Classical KING FM. It creates a non-stress cocoon in our cars and provides a beautiful backdrop to activities at our home. We are everyday listeners just like thousands of people in the Seattle region, and we are part of a diverse community of 250,000 people who every week are inspired and soothed by the power of classical music, and treated to insights into its genesis and complexity by the knowledgeable on-air personalities on KING FM.

We are championing this capital campaign because we know that KING FM is at a pivotal point in its development:

- It is a relatively young nonprofit institution in Seattle only seven years since it was transformed from commercial to nonprofit.
- ♦ We have a new CEO Brenda Barnes who comes to Seattle from LA where she pioneered ideas at the leading classical station in America for making our music accessible to people of all ages and backgrounds, including those who never dreamed they might actually like classical music!
- KING FM has to move its facilities because the building where it is currently housed will be torn down within two years.
- Brenda and the KING FM Board share a vision for a sustainable, financially responsible organization that collaborates fully with the other arts institutions and services we also support.

Finally, we applaud this campaign because we understand how important it is for the Pacific Northwest to have an excellent, local classical music service just like other great cities and regions in America. A strong KING FM adds significantly to the quality of life for all of us "everyday listeners."

Thank you so much.

Sincerely,

Lyn and Jerry Grinstein

PRESS RELEASE

In Seattle, the opera and classical music station get ready to work, collaborate under one roof KING FM 98.1 leases 4,000-square-feet in Seattle Opera's new civic home

SEATTLE—In a time when many arts organizations are struggling to stay afloat, two companies dedicated to classical music have found a way not only to survive, but to thrive. Beginning in early 2020, Seattle Opera and Classical KING FM 98.1 will be housed under one roof: the opera's civic home on the Seattle Center campus. While the Opera Center was completed in December 2018, the second-floor office has remained intentionally vacant. Seattle Opera General Director Aidan Lang said the company was looking for an organization to rent the space who shared a similar vision and mission. With a long history of working together, (such as broadcasts of McCaw Hall performances), KING FM was the ideal match, Lang said. This summer, a new radio broadcast facility will be constructed on the opera's second floor.

"We have worked closely with Seattle Opera for years, and look forward to finding more opportunities to collaborate once we are only a floor apart," said KING FM CEO Brenda Barnes. "We are thrilled to be moving into this beautiful space, and to be in such close proximity to one of our most important partners."

One example of a future collaboration will include live, Friday-night broadcasts from one of the opera's rehearsal studios.

Through this new agreement, Seattle Opera is helping to secure its future through rental income that will fund the ongoing costs of operating its $60 million building.

The opera is providing higher quality space than KING FM could construct on its own, helping KING continue to build audience for the art form.

With no need to purchase a ticket, figure out what to wear, travel to the performance venue, or worry about when to clap, classical radio stations are the easiest way for people to give classical music a try. (In fact, only 15 percent of the KING FM audience has ever attended a classical concert). Additionally, the station includes 46,000 listeners under 35 and 7,600 listeners under 11. African American and Latinx make up over 15,000 of our listeners, which is enough people to fill McCaw Hall seven times over. In terms of socioeconomic diversity, 30,000 listeners are people with annual incomes under $35,000.

"Seattle Opera and KING FM believe that stronger collaboration is critical to the success and sustainability of the major arts institutions in Seattle," Lang said. "With this agreement, we are creating a more viable future for performance, music, and civic engagement in this community."

About Seattle Opera

Established in 1963, Seattle Opera is committed to serving the people of the Pacific Northwest with performances of the highest caliber and through innovative educational and engagement programs for all. Each year, more than 95,000 people attend Seattle Opera performances, and more than 400,000 people of all ages are served through school performances, radio broadcasts, and more. By drawing our communities together, and by offering opera's unique fusion of music and drama, we create life-enhancing experiences that speak deeply to people's hearts and minds. Connect with Seattle Opera on Facebook, Twitter, SoundCloud, and on Classical King FM. 98.1.

About Classical KING FM 98.1

Founded in 1948 by Dorothy Stimson Bullitt, Classical KING FM 98.1 is among the longest-running classical radio stations in the United States. KING FM's focus on the Northwest community extends beyond live and local broadcasts to its "Northwest Focus" programming. These elements of KING's programming allow the station to connect listeners with what is happening in the classical music world of the Northwest and beyond, with weekly concert preview programming, broadcasts of locally-recorded concerts, and live broadcasts from the KING FM studio and from locations around the region that feature the best in local classical music.
