

Leaving a Lasting Legacy

Scripture:

"A good person leaves an inheritance for their children's children, but a sinner's wealth is stored up for the righteous." — Proverbs 13:22 (NIV)

Reflection:

When we hear the word legacy, we often think of money, property, or accomplishments left behind after someone dies. But the most powerful legacy isn't found in bank accounts or buildings—it's found in the lives we've touched, the faith we've shared, and the love we've shown.

True legacy is eternal. It's the impact of a life surrendered to God, shaped by grace, and poured out in service to others. It's the prayers whispered in quiet rooms, the wisdom shared across generations, and the character displayed when no one else is looking.

We don't have to be famous to leave a legacy. We just have to be faithful. Ask yourself: What will people remember when they think of me? Will it be kindness? Integrity? Faith in trials? What we build with our lives matters, but who we become matters even more.

A God-centered legacy echoes far beyond our years. It's not just about what we leave behind—it's about what we pass forward.

Challenge:

Live today with legacy in mind. Speak life, offer forgiveness, serve selflessly. These are the bricks of a lasting foundation that future generations can stand on.

Prayer:

Heavenly Father,
Help us to live in a way that leaves a legacy of love, truth, and faith. May our actions reflect Your heart and our words point others to You. Teach us to value what lasts forever—not just what is seen, but what is eternal. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.
