Additional Snow Totals Tonight

For the North Carolina Mountains

December 8, 2025

1:39 PM EST

For locations along the NC/TN border, mainly above 3500'- An additional 1-2 inches is possible as weak NW flow sets up through the evening.

Temperatures are expected to drop well below freezing in the mountains, causing ice to form on wet roadways and create slippery road conditions overnight and into the morning hours.
